BRITISH CRUISERS OFF COAST SEARCHING FOR GERMAN SUB

LITTLE DOUBT IN MINDS OF AMERICAN OFFICIALS THAT ONE OF SUBS WAS THE U-53, WHICH TOUCHED A NEWPORT SATURDAY.

International Complications with Allies as well as Germany May Result from Action of German Submarine Off New England Coast—Officials find No Reason for Changing their First Impression that Operations of the German Subs were within the Limitations of International Law—Navy Department Establishes a Patrol along Coast to See that Neutrality is Not Violated—International Mercantile Company, Which Controls Both American and British Vessels, Issued Orders today that No British Ships that Line Would Leave Atlantic Ports, Pending Further Orders—Marine Insurance Rates Jump from One to Five Per Cent—Members of the Crew of the Stephano Declare that Vessel was Sunk by the U-61.

Boston, Mass. Oct. 9.—Rushing to give battle to the German submarine which is known to have sunk six ships off Nantucket yesterday, three British cruisers were on the battle ground today. This was the first appearance of any British or French patrolling vessels since the submarine commenced its activities yesterday morning.

The crew of the British freighter Kingston is still missing today, but the men were reported in life boats thirty miles southeast of Nantucket. The submarine or submarines have not been identified, but there is no doubt in the minds of naval officials that one of them was the U-53, which touched Newport Saturday.

Shipping at ports along the New England coast was held up to a greater extent today, and vessels at sea are making for the nearest harbor.

After the American steamer Kansas was stopped by the German engine of destruction, and allowed to proceed, she sent broadcast radiograms telling of the submarine's appearance. These dispatches were picked up at Newport and the fleet of United States torpedo boat destroyers were immediately ordered to pick up their crews. Throughout the night, the destroyers cruised in the waters for several miles around Nantucket lightship, receiving from time to time news of the sinking of additional vessels.

Hold Germany Responsible
Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 9.—President Wilson announced today that as a result of the German submarine activity on the Eastern Atlantic coast, "the German government will be held to the fulfillment of its promises to the United States." He said he had no right to question Germany's willingness to fulfill her promises.

Neutrality Not Violated.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 9.—Possibilities of diplomatic complications over the German submarine raid along the New England coast seemed today to point toward the allies as well as Germany.

Officials, basing their conclusions on the unofficial accounts, found no reason to change their first impression that the submarine operations had been conducted so far within the limitations of international law.

The navy department today prepared to establish a patrol along the North Atlantic coast to make certain that American neutrality is not violated.

No British Ships Sail.
New York, Oct. 9.—The International Mercantile Company, which controls

WEATHER FORECAST
New Orleans, La., Oct. 9.—The weather forecast for Oklahoma for tonight is fair and colder with frost, Tuesday fair.

both American and British vessels, issued orders that no British ships of that line would leave Atlantic ports pending further orders. Marine insurance rates from American to English ports jumped from one to five per cent today on the German submarine operations.

Antilla Towed In.

Newport, L. I., Oct. 9.—The burning Ward liner Antilla reached Cape Charles at noon today, according to a wireless. The burning vessel is being towed by the coast guard cutter Onondaga. The flames have been controlled.

Think Sub Was U-61.

Newport, L. I., Oct. 9.—Mrs. Henry R. Wilson of the passengers on the torpedoed British liner Stephano, off Nantucket yesterday, said today that several members of the crew and one officer told her that they distinctly saw the attacking submarine through their glasses, and that it was the U-61. One of the destroyer Balch's crew, arriving here with survivors, said he saw a German supply ship attending the submarine. The American boats were so quickly on the scene that the American destroyers witnessed the destruction of some of the vessels and the German commander asked the destroyers Brenham and McDougal to make way for him to blow up his prey.

Faith in United States.

London, Oct. 9.—The Manchester Guardian in an editorial today on the exploits of the U-53, declares its conviction of the desire of the United States to observe strict neutrality. The Guardian says if the British ambassador protested against the entry of a submarine into American waters and argued that any further submarine should be interned for the rest of the war, he would be expressing the views as set out in a recent memorandum sent by the allies to neutral governments.

Fired On Without Warning.

New York, Oct. 9.—The British steamer Strathdene, which was sunk yesterday, was fired on without warning, according to Captain Miller arriving here, who said the first knowledge of the presence of the submarine was when shells fell on the ship yesterday morning.

WATSON TRIAL BEGINS.

Special Venire of Hundred Fifty Men
Calls for Jury Service.
Waco, Texas, Oct. 9.—The murder trial of T. R. Watson, the Teague banker, charged with killing State Banking Commissioner Patterson, began here today with a special venire of 150 for jury service.

No wonder Mr. Hughes' speech at Sheboygan was a sizzler. That's where they make things pop.

MANAGER ROBINSON OF BROOKLYN DODGERS, AND EBBETS FIELD WHERE TOMORROW'S GAME WILL BE PLAYED

EBBETS FIELD DIAMOND AND MANAGER ROBINSON

Nearly 1,500 extra box seats would be placed on Ebbets field, Brooklyn, and there probably would be 1,500 circus seats constructed in left field. It was announced. These extra accommodations bring the capacity of Ebbets field up to about 27,000 for the world's series games of the Brooklyn's with the Red Sox. The same conditions exist in Boston. Allotment of the 54,000 reserved seat tickets for world's series showed that the available reservations were oversubscribed so greatly that many persons who asked for a modest pair of seats were allowed but one, while others, asking six and eight, in some instances obtained only a pair. The happiest man in baseball today is Manager Wilbert Robinson, who piloted the Brooklyn's to their first pennant in sixteen years.

BIG REVIVAL TO START HERE WEDNESDAY

REV. DAVID H. COOPER OF THE BROADWAY BAPTIST CHURCH WILL BEGIN SERIES THAT WILL BE OF GREAT INTEREST.

Beginning Wednesday night a series of meetings will be inaugurated at the Broadway Baptist church that is expected to generate great interest before they terminate and be of lasting benefit to the city.

No imported evangelist will be used during these meetings. Rev. David H. Cooper, pastor of the local church will conduct every service which will be held at night only, unless otherwise announced during the meeting. The choir will be especially argued for the occasion and good song services will be given at every meeting.

Rev. Cooper is a forceful eloquent speaker, he is better able to cope with local conditions than some one who is not as well acquainted as he. There will be no sensational stunts or spectacular pyrotechnics so common with a large number of professional evangelists, he will confine his sermons to the things that are most needed by the people of this city at the present time and invites every citizen to attend every meeting.

Ardmore Boy Full-Fledged Marine.

New York, Oct. 9.—Experiencing that peculiar pride that comes to the trained Marine when he realizes the responsibility that rests upon him as a defender of his country's flag, Samuel L. Kendrick of Ardmore, is now a full-fledged "regular" in the United States Marine Corps.

For the past few months he has been undergoing a course of instruction in the drills, duties etc., and recently was "turned over for duty" at Norfolk, Va., where he is awaiting the call to expeditionary, sea or foreign shore duty. The soldiers of the sea wear a distinctively military uniform and are proud of the traditions and record of their Corps—"The first line of defense."

Samuel, who is a son of Mrs. Alice Frizzell of Ardmore, enlisted in the United States Marine Corps at its St. Louis, Mo., recruiting station on June 6, 1916.

PREVENTION IS WORTH MORE THAN ANY CURE

THIS IS FIRE PREVENTION DAY AND EVERY ONE IS ASKED TO CO-OPERATE WITH OFFICIALS TO PREVENT FIRES.

This is fire prevention day throughout the nation, and every citizen of the city is asked to co-operate with the city officials and remove anything which might cause a fire; such as boxes, barrels and old trash which might be the cause of a fire. The acting mayor and commissioners will be pleased to co-operate with the citizens and any one calling the city hall will be furnished means of transportation of any rubbish that they may have. Ardmore has had several first class fire traps that should be removed, every yard in the rear of business houses on the business streets of the city should be given a thorough cleaning before a dropped match or cigar stub starts a fire that will cost the city thousands of dollars.

INTEREST IN GOLF IS INCREASING IN ARDMORE

The members of Dornick Hills Country Club are taking an active interest in what they claim to be the best of all sports, golf. Many new players are being added to the active list, and the regulars are to be seen on the links at every opportunity. Interest at present is centered in the coming contest for the president's trophy, which will be played soon. Seven players have already qualified, as follows: Perry Maxwell, John Dexter, H. D. McCullum, John Edwards, Oscar DeVeny, Joe Echols, and Velle C. Suggs. The eighth will be decided next Tuesday, when the lowest score for 18 holes will qualify. Drawings will be made soon after that date and the battle will be on.

Innes Miller, the golf professional, states that Dornick Hills has some good material, and he hopes to make some real golf players in the course of the next year or so.

The federal grand jury reconvened again this morning and it is reported that they will probably finish their work this week and adjourn for good. The jury has been in session several weeks.
